The proceedings of the CQP Meeting 2004 in Freudenstadt were published as a book by Sense Publishers, Rotterdam, in 2007:
CONTENTS

1. Introduction: Arguments for Mixed Methodology
   Ph. Mayring
   1

2. Combining Qualitative Methods
   5
   2.1 How to Tap the Full Potential of Qualitative Research by Applying Qualitative Methods
       G. Shank
       7
   2.2 Maximizing Data Use: Mixed Qualitative Methods
       G.M. Boulton-Lewis & I.A. Witt
       15

3. Combining Qualitative and Quantitative Methods
   25
   3.1 Mixing Qualitative and Quantitative Methods
       Ph. Mayring
       27
   3.2 Combining Qualitative and Quantitative Research Strategies for Analysing the Experience of Aversive Tension in Different Patient Groups
       J. Rischkof, C. Stigmayer, S. Scheuer, V. Albrecht, N. Porzig & A. Anckenthaler
       37
   3.3 Content Analysis of Task Solutions as a Means to Generate Achievement Scores
       S.K. Lehmann-Grabe
       47
   3.4 Institutional Plans for Education Institutions and Organizational Culture
       E. Álvarez Arregui & R. Pérez Pérez
       67
   3.5 Following the Process – Using Mixed Methods to Capture Clients’ Experiences of Change in Therapy and Counselling
       S.B. Gahleitner
       79
   3.6 ICT Training Needs of Adults in Formal and Non-Formal Educational Processes in 21st Century Society
       L. Almazán Moreno & A. Ortiz Colón
       87
   3.7 Coherence in Knowledge Communication: How Do Online Groups Communicate?
       K. Schweizer, M. Paechter & B. Weidemann
       101

4. Access to Individual Experience by Mixed Methods
   113
CONTENTS

4.1 The Relation of Instructional Quality to Students’ Emotions in Secondary Schools – A Qualitative-Quantitative Study
   M. Glöser-Zikula
   115

4.2 Combining Software for Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis: Empirical Examples on Clustering, Classification, and Typological Classification
   L. Gürtler & G.L. Huber
   127

4.3 Methods Used for Research Regarding Iteration in Instructional Design
   D.M.L. Verstegen
   143

4.4 Mixed Methods: Challenging Work and Organizational Psychology. The Case of Employee Commitment
   N. Torka
   157

5. Deeper Understanding of Findings by Mixing Methods
   177

5.1 How to Add Qualitative Profoundness to Quantitative Findings in a Study on Cooperative Learning
   A.A. Huber
   179

5.2 The Press as an Educational Resource in the Adult Education. A Qualitative-Quantitative Methodological Perspective
   C. Rico Lorenzo & T. Feliz Murias
   191

5.3 The Qualitative Analysis of Educational Spaces on Photography Support
   T. Feliz Murias & C. Rico Lorenzo
   207

5.4 Project “Integration of Children with Migration Background in Baden-Württemberg and California” as an Example for Multi-Method Design
   K.E. Sauer & J. Held
   229

   L. Gürtler, G.L. Huber & M. Kiegeleman
   243